

Alpesh Patel

Market Guru and Global Entrepreneur

"The UK's best known internet trader"

A barrister, broadcaster and asset manager, Alpesh Patel reaches 280 million viewers through his newspaper review on the BBC, discussing politics, economics and social issues. Appointed as Dealmaker for the British Government covering India and China, his role is to find innovative technologies and help the companies of outstanding entrepreneurs to go global.

TOPICS:

- Purpose
- Personal Development
- Motivation
- Career Planning
- Leadership in Global Business
- Global Markets Outlook
- International Relations

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2002 Internet Trading Course
- 1999 Trading Online
- 1997 The Mind of a Trader

IN DETAIL:

Alpesh was appointed by the Foreign Secretary as the youngest member of the UK-India Roundtable to examine ways of improving bilateral relations between the two countries and report directly to the Prime Minister. His role was to advocate creative solutions from areas of academic exchanges to bilateral trade to tourism. He has written for the Financial Times since 1999, and provided regular market views for Barclays, Merrill Lynch and HSBC, as well as investment talks for American Express and Goldman Sachs. He is a former Visiting Fellow in Business of Corpus Christi College, Oxford, and a trustee of the Royal Institute of International Affairs.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

In his presentations Alpesh Patel combines practical wisdom with academic insights. What makes Patel special is not just his insightful observations of social and economic trends, but the engrossing way he presents them.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Alpesh Patel is an accomplished speaker, gauging his audience perfectly which makes him an extremely engaging speaker, bringing his audience with him every step of the way. He comes across as charismatic and knowledgeable with a relaxed style to his lively and entertaining talks.