

Dara O`Briain

Renowned Stand-up Comedian & Presenter

"Genuinely imaginative and ridiculously funny" The Independent

Dara O'Briain stands out as one of the most renowned comedians in the UK. Renowned for his roles in hosting Mock the Week, The Panel, and The Apprentice: You're Fired!, Dara has become a familiar presence in the realm of television comedy. The Irish comedian has garnered numerous accolades for his devilishly clever humour and impeccable timing.

TOPICS:

- Host and Awards
- Entertainment
- Science & Technology
- Moderators

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2020 Is There Anybody Out There?
- 2019 Secret Science: The Amazing World Beyond Your Eyes
- 2018 Beyond the Sky: You and the Universe
- 2009 Tickling the English

IN DETAIL:

At the start of 2003 Dara was chosen by the BBC to front their Saturday night comedy showcase, The Live Floor Show, which directly led to an invite to guest-host the legendary Have I Got News for You, an appearance described by The Sun as "the best guest host yet". The basis for this success is Dara's place at the very top of the stand-up circuit. Winner of the Chortle award for "Best Headline Act" in both 2003 and 2004, Dara has performed virtually all over the world. A graduate of Mathematical Physics from University College Dublin, Dara has a deep understanding of scientific data and the use of analytics which has parallels in today's marketing world. His numerical expertise, quick wit and Irish charm make him a very credible celebrity speaker.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Dara is one of those stand-ups who just seem to have been hit by the funny stick. The delivery is relentless and the material frequently topical, fresh from the day's headlines, but he can also delve into bigger issues. He exudes warmth and spontaneous good humour, and it's always a delight to be entertained by him.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Charismatic and ridiculously funny Dara is in great demand as an after dinner entertainer at various events around the globe.