

Graeme Leach

Renowned Expert in Economics, Politics and Global Economic Outlook

"A household name in economy."

Graeme Leach is a visiting professor of economic policy, and a member of the Shadow Monetary Policy Committee of high-profile UK macroeconomists commenting on the Bank of England's conduct of monetary policy. Moreover, he maintains a weekly column in the City AM newspaper of London.

TOPICS:

- The Great Inflection
- Coronanomics
- Economic Outlook
- Brexit

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Graeme has participated in more than 150 live TV and radio interviews for BBC News, Sky News, CNBC, CNN, the BBC Radio 4 Today Programme and BBC Radio 4 World at OneBefore establishing macronomics, Graeme was Director of Economics and Prosperity Studies at the Legatum Institute, focused on the so-called global drivers of prosperity. Between the years 1997 and 2013 Leach worked as Chief Economist and Director of Policy at the Institute of Directors (IoD). Furthermore, he was a Main Board Director here. Leach represented the IoD in discussions with both the Chancellor of the Exchequer and 10 Downing Street alike and earlier in his career he was Chief UK Economist and Chief International Economist as well, at The Henley Centre for Forecasting. He was furthermore Economic Adviser to the Scottish Provident Investment Group.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

In a world in which the future is becoming more and more uncertain, and there is less time to make sense of it, Graeme helps clients to understand the big picture, and thereby have a clearer view of tomorrow, today. He's also not afraid to challenge conventional wisdom and over the course of his career has made many big calls subsequently proven correct.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Graeme delivers his messages in a simple, engaging and clear way. He is accomplished at forecasting trends for the future of the economic markets.