IN DETAIL:

Hans first made his name as a touring car driver of Ford and BMW in the early 1970s, before making his Formula One debut in 1974. He won the World Sports car title in 1985 and the Le Mans 24 Hours between 1986 and 1989. In 1990 he became German Touring Car Champion with Audi. Following in the footsteps of his father, Hans has also made his mark at international hill-climb races. Although Hans officially retired from the Formula One racing scene in 1995, he has been Formula One columnist in 1997 for BILD, Germany's biggest newspaper, and in 1999 he won the American Le Mans Series GT Personality of the Year Award. Hans has been involved in various activities: he was named an honorary lifetime commander for his contribution to the elite GSG-9 anti-terrorist troops in Germany and is also an ambassador for Miami-based Dolphin Aid. In 2008, he took on the role of motor sport representative for Volkswagen.
