Jonnie Penn

Historian of Technology

Bestselling author and a leading AI ethics expert

Dr. Jonnie Penn, FRSA, is an Associate Teaching Professor of AI Ethics and Society at the University of Cambridge. He is a historian of technology, a #1 New York Times bestselling author, and a public speaker.

TOPICS:

- AI and Society: Shaping the Future Together
- Lessons from History: What Ancient Wisdom Can Teach Us About AI
- The Role of AI in Addressing Global Challenges
- Human-AI Collaboration: Building a Symbiotic Future
- AI and Creativity: Redefining Art and Innovation
- Digital Privacy and AI: Protecting Personal Data in the Modern Age
- Sustainable AI: Ensuring Environmental Responsibility in Tech Development

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Jonnie Penn holds several prestigious positions: he is a Faculty Affiliate at the Berkman Klein Center at Harvard University, a Research Fellow and Teaching Associate in the Department of History and Philosophy of Science, a Research Fellow at St. Edmund's College, and an Associate Fellow at the Leverhulme Centre for the Future of Intelligence. He has previously been a MIT Media Lab Assembly Fellow, a Google Technology Policy Fellow, a Fellow of the British National Academy of Writing, and a popular broadcaster.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Dr. Penn offers audiences at an event a profound and engaging exploration of the ethical and societal dimensions of artificial intelligence and technology. Drawing on his extensive expertise as a historian of technology, bestselling author, and academic, he provides nuanced insights into the ethical implications of AI, the historical context of technological advancements, and the future challenges we face in integrating intelligent systems into society.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Dr. Penn's talks are well-informed, engaging, and thought-provoking, appealing to a wide range of audiences interested in the ethical and societal dimensions of technology.