

Nisha Katona

Restaurateur, Author & Presenter

"A dedicated curry evangelist"

Nisha Katona is the CEO, executive chef and development chef of Mowgli Street Food restaurants and founder of the Mowgli Trust charity. Nisha has appeared in various television programmes including Channel 4's Sunday Brunch and a regular slot on ITV's Lorraine in which she demonstrates her fool proof, simple recipes with ease and an infectious passion for her food.

TOPICS:

- Diversity
- Leadership Insights
- Entrepreneurship

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2021 30 Minute Mowgli
- 2018 Mowgli Street Food: Stories and recipes from the Mowgli Street Food restaurants
- 2017 The Spice Tree: Indian Cooking Made Beautifully Simple
- 2015 Pimp My Rice

IN DETAIL:

Nisha Katona opened the first Mowgli Street Food in Liverpool. Since giving up the security of a 20-year career as a full time Barrister, Nisha has grown Mowgli Street Food to eighteen restaurants across the UK with an aim to continue growing restaurants and jobs in order to fulfil the mission of Mowgli: to enrich lives in the cities she goes to. Mowgli Street Food is recognised as one of the nation's fastest growing companies according to The Sunday Times Fast Track 100 and was awarded by them, Best Management Team. Most recently Mowgli was ranked 28 in 'The UK's Top 100 Best Large Companies to work for' category at the 2021 Best Companies Awards..

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Nisha proves how one woman can empower so many others and that if you can evolve your passion into a scalable business by offering people something authentic and unique then that's the secret sauce for turning passion into profit.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Nisha speaks from the heart offering a fascinating insight into her life struggles, the Indian culture which feeds her strong work ethic, and her hopes and vision for the future.